ABOUT THIS WINERY

ATTIS is the wine quest of two brothers, Robustiano and Baldomero Fariña. Years ago, they joined the French Oenologist, Jean François Hebrard, to elevate winemaking in Rias Baixas and the possibilities of its varietals and terroir aiming to elaborate different wines, attending to their variety, plot or elaboration, bringing out each nuance and every aroma that gives them the climate, the terroir and of the Atlantic.

TASTING NOTES

Intense bouquet of fresh white fruits and citrus notes. On the palate, it is fresh and succulent with a nice acidity . which continues in a persistent finish.

Goes very well with seafood, sushi and sashimi, chicken salad, quiche.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Manual harvest. Selection at the entrance of the cellar. Destemming and pressing. Spontaneous alcoholic fermentation with temperature control (12- 15 ° C). Ageing in stainless steel tanks on lees for 4 months with "bâtonnage". No malolactic fermentation. Tangential filtration.
